Funeral Home Wedding

Gene and Mozelle spent their happiest Valentines Day in an out of the ordinary way. Yes they got married (cliché), but they did it at a funeral home.

The couple met at the funeral home during grief counseling meetings and after about a year of Gene's relentless pursuit, the two had their wedding ceremony in the funeral home.

The small town in southern Idaho's funeral home held about 50 friends and family that were very happy to see the couple say their vows and turn the difficult time of losing a spouse into new love. A great beginning in a place that usually hosts sad endings.

They Better Know Numbers

Some digging has been done into Obama's Auto Task Force and Detroit News found what the players in this group are driving. Of the ten on the list, only two are driving cars made by American owned companies. There are a total of 8 members and 10 aides. Three don't even own cars and most would probably admit to being driven around most of the time anyway. It is hard to know if these out-of-touch politicians even know what the American public is driving nevertheless how to fix the problem.

The list of vehicles driven by those on the Task force include: Honda, Lexus, Mazda, Volvo, Toyota, Mini Cooper, Subaru, and others.

I guess that could be a microcosm of the problem at whole. If the people who are running America and have the financial ability to choose any make are buying foreign, how can we fault the buying public. It would be nice for some of them to lead by example, though.

Cell Phones for Eternity

Phantom rings, feel the cell phone vibrate while you sleep? Sometimes it feels like we can never get away. Now for some people, that is exactly how they want to keep it. Funeral directors in the UK are finding more and more people are asking to have their cell phones buried with them. It's now the number 2 funeral right request. Family is also requesting the phone to be left on so they can "stay connected." It's important for people and family to have things that mean a lot go with them. And the cell phone may be the only thing people wear every single day. For some, that phone may be their "life."

Witty Tombstones

In a Thurmont, Maryland , cemetery: Here lies an Atheist, all dressed up and no place to go.

On the grave of Ezekial Aikle in East Dalhousie Cemetery , Nova Scotia : Here lies Ezekial Aikle, Age 102. Only The Good Die Young.

In a London , England cemetery: Here lies Ann Mann, Who lived an old maid but died an old Mann. Dec. 8, 1767

In a Ruidoso, New Mexico , cemetery: Here lies Johnny Yeast... Pardon me for not rising.

In a Ribbesford, England , cemetery: Anna Wallace The children of Israel wanted bread, And the Lord sent them manna. Clark Wallace wanted a wife, And the Devil sent him Anna.

In a Uniontown, Pennsylvania , cemetery: Here lies the body of Jonathan Blake. Stepped on the gas instead of the brake.

In a Silver City, Nevada, cemetery: Here lays The Kid. We planted him raw. He was quick on the trigger But slow on the draw.

A lawyer's epitaph in England : Sir John Strange. Here lies an honest lawyer, and that is Strange.
